I am in favor of retention of the morse code test requirement for operation below 30 Mhz. In a true emergency, if you are the sender in morse code, you would want to person copying what you say on the other end to know how to copy. If someone cannot copy morse code, there always remains that chance that lives could be lost. Please keep the code.
Respectfully,
Gregory D McCraw KG4YQE